

COBWEB HOUSELEEK

COBWEB HOUSELEEK

A low-growing and clump-forming succulent with green rosettes covered in a white, hairy webbing, that grows pink flowers once a year

Prefers bright light to thrive

Water when soil is totally dry, typically every 10-14 days depending on the season

Propagate by separating the pups and removing the offsets from the mother plant

Typically not toxic