

KALANCHOE 'FANG'

KALANCHOE BEHARENSIS

A tall, fuzzy succulent with velvety silver leaves, with the undersides covered in small tubercles, or "fangs". Goes dormant in the summer months

Water every 7-10 days as needed when soil is dry

Prefers full sun to partial shade

Leaves or stem cuttings can be easily propagated

Can be toxic