

TIGER'S JAW

FAUCARIA TIGRINA

A small clump-forming succulent, with soft, white "teeth" along the edges

Water only every 3 weeks, when leaves start to feel rubbery

Craves bright sunlight, though partial shade is recommenced in extreme heat

Propagate by removing a rosette, allowing it to callous for a day and then replanting it

Typically not toxic to pets