The survey will be distributed primarily through email following the event, with QR codes available onsite during the OC Fair to allow guests to access and complete the survey using their mobile devices. Survey services may also be utilized for interim events, as needed, and shall include survey development, implementation, data collection, analysis, and reporting, as directed by the 32nd District Agricultural Association.

Additionally, during the collection of data and reporting period, a project manager and one qualified alternate point of contact must be available for emergency support and to provide guidance to immediate inquiries during the run of the Fair.

Research Planning and Development

The District and Contractor shall meet annually, approximately 3 months prior to the start of the OC Fair, to review the previous year's survey results and establish the research plan for the upcoming survey.

The Contractor shall collaborate with the District to align research objectives with business goals; identify key performance indicators (KPIs) and success metrics; recommend survey methodology, sampling strategy, and questionnaire content; establish a project timeline; and define the approach to survey design, administration, analysis, and reporting.

Design

The Contractor shall develop, design, program, and maintain an online quantitative survey accessible through multiple distribution channels, including, but not limited to, direct URLs, email invitations, and QR codes.

The survey shall be optimized for desktop and mobile devices and shall comply with WCAG 2.1 AA accessibility standards. The cost of developing, programming, hosting, administering, and reporting on the annual OC Fair survey through email, direct URL, and QR-code distribution shall be included in the applicable annual survey pricing provided on the Financial Proposal Bid Form.

The survey shall preserve core longitudinal questions to support year-over-year trend analysis while incorporating new or revised questions that reflect the District's evolving business objectives.

Survey design shall incorporate industry best practices, including logical question sequencing, skip logic, branching, randomization where appropriate, response validation, and techniques to minimize respondent burden and survey fatigue. Unless otherwise approved by the District, the target survey completion time shall be five (5) to ten (10) minutes.

The Contractor shall ensure the survey branding conforms to the District's annual style guide, including logos, colors, fonts, and visual identity.

The Contractor shall provide professional translation, programming, testing, and administration of a Spanish-language survey. The English and Spanish versions shall be functionally equivalent with consistent question wording, response options, survey logic, and reporting.

Administration

The Contractor shall administer the survey from launch through the close of the data collection period. Responsibilities shall include hosting, deployment, monitoring, and ongoing management of the survey to ensure a seamless respondent experience and the collection of high-quality data.

The Contractor shall monitor survey performance throughout the fielding period and provide recommendations to improve response rates and data quality, including adjustments to distribution strategies, reminder schedules, or survey functionality when appropriate.

The Contractor shall implement measures to prevent duplicate or fraudulent responses while maintaining respondent anonymity and confidentiality. Prior to launch, the Contractor shall conduct quality assurance testing to verify survey functionality, skip logic, branching, hyperlinks, translations, mobile compatibility, and accessibility across supported browsers and devices. Any technical issues or anomalies that may affect data integrity shall be promptly communicated to the District along with recommended corrective actions.

Throughout the fielding period, the Contractor shall provide periodic status updates that include response rates, completion rates, demographic distributions, and any notable trends or issues requiring the District's attention.

Interim Event Surveys

The District may request guest survey services for interim events occurring during the contract term. For purposes of preparing the Financial Proposal Bid Form, bidders should assume that any interim event will be no more than three (3) consecutive days in duration. The District does not currently have specific interim events identified and makes no guarantee that interim event survey services will be requested.

Interim event surveys may include survey development, programming, translation, administration, data collection, analysis, reporting, and related consultation. Unless otherwise specifically identified on the Financial Proposal Bid Form, interim event services shall be billed at the applicable hourly rate(s) provided on the Financial Proposal Bid Form, based on actual hours worked. The District will authorize interim event survey services in advance.

Analysis, Reporting, and Deliverables

The Contractor shall analyze survey results and provide accurate, statistically sound, and actionable reporting that enables the District to evaluate performance, identify trends, and support informed decision-making.

Analysis shall include data validation and cleaning; calculation of key performance indicators (KPIs); year-over-year comparisons of longitudinal measures; segmentation by demographic and behavioral characteristics; cross-tabulations for audience segments identified during the annual planning process; and identification of statistically significant findings, emerging trends, strengths, opportunities, and areas of concern.

During the OC Fair, the Contractor shall prepare and deliver daily reports for each Fair day. Deliverables shall include, at a minimum, one topline report, one accompanying infographic, and five to seven customized reports supporting the District's various business units (e.g. Food & Beverage, Carnival, Shopping, Programming, and Admission/Parking/General Experience). Unless otherwise directed by the District, reports shall be delivered within 32 hours following the close of each Fair day.
