

HOW SAN DIEGANS FEEL ABOUT ENERGY

77%

of San Diego
residents

report feeling a responsibility or social/civic obligation to engage in the environmental movement by managing their electricity use

66%

of San Diego
residents

believe their household management of electricity use is making a positive impact on climate change and energy issues

